

CEO visits Wallarah 2 Project Site

Our CEO Stephen Galilee was on the Central Coast this week to meet with the Wallarah 2 project team and tour the site of the proposed Wallarah 2 underground project.

The project has received all necessary approvals from the NSW Government and is in the final stages of assessment at Commonwealth level.

Stephen also spoke to local media about the project and the economic benefits it will provide to a region with historically high unemployment, particularly youth unemployment.

Commenting after the tour, Stephen said, "...this project has been one of the the most rigorously assessed ever, and during a very long process has been subject to the highest levels of scrutiny. The mine has been cleverly designed to minimise its impacts and will bring significant opportunities to the region."
